

EASTSIDE.

timeless LOOKS

no fuss fall fashions

PHOTOGRAPHY BY Rodrigo DeMedeiros

History repeats itself, with minor shifts in style. In fashion, past prints, cuts and designs swing in and out of vogue. Vintage T-shirts from the 1980s are still riding out their fame while 1940s and 1950s hats have come back full force after the royal wedding. And who knows when people will get sick of the 1960s double-breasted peacoat? In fall 2011, designers are reaching into the past to reinvent classics. Right when you assumed a simple high-waisted skirt with a white blouse was too boring, a long lavish bow makes it new again. Animal prints, metal belts and more timeless looks pop with contemporary flair. Get ready for the cape coats, and for funky 1970s-inspired heels because they're coming back but not like you've seen before. And guys, don't try to escape the past, either. The skinny jean might be here to stay a little longer but bulky sweaters and looser fits are coming in. And take back your judgments on elbow patches, even Tim Gunn is endorsing them. ¶ Overwhelmed? Already forgotten what year it is? Don't worry, a little black dress or a fitted suit will never drop off the fashion world's radar, no matter the decade. >>
